GETTING TO KNOW CAMPUS

- Interactive Campus Map: Provides information about transportation, gender neutral bathrooms, lactation rooms, campus resource centers, in addition to campus landmarks.
- UMD Virtual Tour: Interactive, narrated tour of UMD’s Campus.
- UMD Campus Counts: UMD Institutional Research, Planning, and Assessment (IRPA) publishes annual campus count reports, which includes a yearly demographic snapshot (e.g., race, gender, appointment type, rank) of UMD undergraduate and graduate students, faculty, and staff.

FACULTY RESOURCES

- Division of Research: The Division of Research supports the research and grant activities of faculty and offers workshops and support for faculty seeking or managing grants.
- Guidelines for Faculty Mentoring: The University requires that all faculty are provided with or offered the opportunity to receive mentorship. This document outlines the university policy on faculty mentor and guidance on establishing and maintaining good mentoring relationships.
- Teaching Learning and Transformation Center: Provide workshops, resources, learning communities, consultations, and other information for all instructional personnel on campus.
- Office of Faculty Affairs (OFA): Supports all aspects of the faculty experience, including issues pertaining to promotion and tenure, awards, faculty development, procedures, and reporting. OFA supports the ongoing professional development of faculty through productivity groups, chair workshops, new faculty workshops, faculty forums, and Big 10 Academic Alliance faculty programs.
- The Office of Diversity and Inclusion: Provides bias incident support services, resources, training, and education related to diversity, equity, and inclusion. Diversity and Equity Officers are also located within each academic unit.
- ADVANCE Program for Inclusive Excellence: The ADVANCE Program supports the recruitment, retention, advancement, and professional growth of a diverse professoriate. Activities include faculty peer networks and workshops. Each college also has an ADVANCE Professor who leads activities within their college. The AP and ADVANCE staff are available to meet with faculty candidates in your college.
- Faculty Ombuds: The Faculty Ombuds provides support and mediation, when necessary, when conflict emerges between faculty and other faculty and/or administrators.
- Faculty and Staff Assistance Program: Provides assessments, referrals, and coaching to faculty and staff encountering work-related conflicts or other personal issues. Also provide workshops and consultations to departments/units.
Faculty Overload Guidelines: For non-federally funded projects, faculty may teach additional courses or perform administrative duties on an overload basis (beyond their normal workload) with the permission of their unit supervisor. In general, the Division of Academic Affairs seeks to limit overloads to two per calendar year for credit instruction (third and subsequent requests can be considered). There are different guidelines for federally-funded overloads.

Faculty Travel Guidelines and Professional Development Funds: There are several policies that guide faculty travel for research or professional development. In general, travel and research funding (outside of grant-funded activities) is negotiated by each faculty member. Individual departments and colleges may also have their own internal mechanisms for supporting faculty research and professional development activities.

Tenure and Promotion

OFA Promotion and Tenure Website: Contains the University policy on promotion and tenure for tenure-track, tenured, and professional track faculty, including the annual report on the percentage of candidates who are tenured and promoted.

OFA Tenure and Promotion Workshops: OFA hosts regular workshops about navigating the tenure and promotion process.
